Enter to Win an All-Expenses Paid Trip to Duke

New Wins: A Dialogue Project Competition

We're searching for undergraduate students dedicated to exploring the different ways business can be a force for good in society. Current students in the Freeman College of Management are invited to share their proposal for how a company, set of companies or industry sector can have positive impact on a specific community, population, location, industry or the environment at large.

You are welcome to pick existing companies or industries or present an entrepreneurial idea of your own. We hope your proposal will highlight any ways in which your idea will contribute to improving civil discourse and reducing polarization in society.

Top grand prize winners will receive an all-expenses paid trip to Duke's Fuqua School of Business where they will present their proposal to influential business leaders and participate in a live case study. Winners who apply to and are admitted to one of Duke's undergraduate programs will also receive some partial scholarship funding.

Eligibility: To be eligible, applicants must be residential, full-time undergraduates at Duke in their Freshman, sophomore or junior year at a college or university located in the United States. Students who are internationally domiciled are welcome to apply. Applicants must be 18 years of age by March 1, 2022 to be eligible.

Timeline: • The deadline to submit a proposal is January 19, 2023. • Decisions will be released in February 2023. • Grand Prize winners will travel to Duke in Spring 2023.

Health in Retirement: 3 Ways To Prepare for a Major Expense
Professor Stacy Mastrolia, accounting, explains how to use a health savings account to save for medical bills in retirement.

SUSTAINABLE SUCCESS
Margaret Ekblom '17 prioritizes people and planet in her corporate career. "A lot of the profitable businesses I studied at Bucknell cared about their employees, customers and work-life balance," says Ekblom, a managing for sustainability major.

What do students and their families hear about the financial aspects of college even before they start classes? Dr. Stacy Mastrolia, Associate Professor of Accounting, Bucknell University, advises students to compose a budget and stick to it.

Questions were inevitable after the recent proclamation that a portion of federal student loan debt will be forgiven. Professor Stacy Mastrolia addresses some in a recent Standard-Journal article.

Why the 50/30/20 Budget Is Unrealistic — and What To Do Instead
Zero-based budgeting is best for hands-on budgeters or those who think that taking a hands-on approach would help them with their finances (spoiler alert: it usually does). Professor of Accounting Stacy Mastrolia spoke to this recently.
